In 1898 we sold to all Asiatic countries to the value of $2,350,000 and bought from them goods valued at $80,128,351.

With a respectable merchant marine of our own and a Nicaragua Canal, we would soon sell Asia as much as she sells to us.

Mr. Stettin has placed himself in line with the progress of the age in ruling that Catholic parents have the right to send their children to the public schools.

When Cleveland and Carlisle put the sugar duty on again the workman's free breakfast table will rise up in its wrath and jump on them with all four of its legs.

The Postmaster General has notified Senators and members of the House of Representatives that hereafter he will require, in addition to their recommendation, some local expression of the patrons of the office as to the fitness of the applicant.

The proposition to change the day of inauguration from March 4th to April 30th is worthy of consideration. If the question were left to the people it would be decided in the affirmative. If not unanimously, at least by an overwhelming majority.

Louisiana sugar planters do not seem to take much stock in Democratic pledges to shelve the bounty. They are said to be liberally increasing their acreage. Perhaps they have had a tip from the inside that the sugar tariff is to be restored.

With some of Vice President Stevenson, Secretary Carlisle and Minister Gray occupying lucrative berths under their respective fathers, it is evident that the old Democratic cry against "nepotism" has gone to join the "Billionaire Congress" bugaboo.

For a third of a century the Democratic party has not had such a chance to show that it does not know how to govern as it will have in the next four years. The Bourbons can be depended upon to make the most of the opportunity for exhibiting their own capacity.

The action of the Administration in blocking Hawaiian annexation augurs ill for Canadian annexation in case our Northern neighbors should apply for admission to the Union during the next four years. Domestic industry is not the only National interest jeopardized by Democratic success.

For thirty-two years Democrats have been free to declaim against Republican legislation without being themselves called upon to place a single law on the statute books. They are now about to receive a lesson in the apparent difference between empty professions of abstract principles and positive enactment of those principles into law.

The prize for bigotry ought to be sent to Gloucester, N. J. A Protestant Church there, whose denomination we respect too highly to mention its name, has discharged its Minister for buying a second hand organ from a Catholic Church. No wonder Gloucester had such a bad reputation for race track scandals if many of its good people are as narrow minded as that.

The New Orleans Times Democrat says the Democrats fought the last campaign partially upon a demand for the revision of the pension laws and a reduction of the pension burden. They assailed the Republican party for the looseness and extravagance of the laws on this subject. In the face of such a pledge as they made to the country it is not encouraging to see that no leading Democrat can suggest any remedy.

If Mr. Cleveland had been re-elected in 1898 instead of being defeated, would he have felt it necessary to drop all of his first appointees at the expiration of their four years and put in a complete new force of officials? The true rule in filling the service is obviously to select the best and fittest man. If the former incumbent of a place is clearly the best man for it he should be chosen. If a new aspirant is worthier and better fitted he should be named.

A somewhat practical Kentuckian swooped down on the White House cupant a few days ago and sent the dialogue that followed:
Hayes—Mister Cleveland, I run the Postoffice in my town in Edmonson county, Kentucky, last year you run the thing and I'm here to get her again.
Cleveland—Can't get it?
Hayes—For why kin't I?
Cleveland—Because a man who has held office once can't do so again.
Hayes—Then why in the hell don't you practice what you preach. What you doin' here?
